Drilling for Non-Drillers

Johannesburg

Due to public demand we are proud to introduce our Drilling for Non-Drillers course. The terminology and conditions on drill sites can sometimes be confusing for staff who do not have a drilling background.

It's important therefore that all members of your team have a good understanding of the industry in which they work.

This course is aimed at equipping non-operational staff with the necessary knowledge to allow them to effectively support your operational team.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Administrative staff, sales team members, accounting staff, procurement officers, buyers as well as any support staff who work closely with or require an understanding of the drilling industry.

ABOUT THE COURSE

This full, one day course will run from 08:00 to 16:30. For delegates to gain full value from this training course it is essential that they attend for the full duration of the day.

All delegates will receive a full set of printed notes and a certificate of attendance.
